JOINED-UP THINKING ON YOUTH WORK – LESSONS FROM AUSTRALIA

Have you ever wished for a really integrated approach to youth work, one that leads from school age right through into training for leadership in the local congregation? That is what has been achieved by Presbyterian Youth – the youth work ministry of the Presbyterian Church of Australia. Now we in Scotland have an opportunity to hear of this successful approach at first hand.

Forward Together are glad to be hosting a visit by Murray Norman and Nathain Secker from Presbyterian Youth. Murray is the manager of the project. There are seminars for MINISTERS, YOUTH WORKERS and YOUTH LEADERS in GLASGOW, EDINBURGH and DINGWALL. These meetings are not youth rallies, but rather seminars for those with a vision for integrated youth work. There will also be youth evenings at KIRKMUIRHILL and DINGWALL.

Seminars for ministers, youth workers and youth leaders:

SATURDAY 1st NOV GLASGOW Chryston Church Hall, 10 am – 12 noon

WEDNESDAY 5th NOV EDINBURGH Holyrood Abbey Church Hall, 7.30 – 9.30 pm

THURSDAY 6th NOV DINGWALL Highland Theological College, 7.30 – 9.30 pm

Youth evenings:

SUNDAY 2nd NOV KIRKMUIRHILL Parish Church, 7.00 pm

FRIDAY 7th NOV DINGWALL Castle Street Church, 7.30 pm
